“ It's taken me a week to be able to look at this. My heart hurt just to see the link. Joe was the love of my life in every way, shape and form for the last 20 years. We shared a love that others only dream of having. We accepted and loved each other's flaws. Like he didn't mind that I was a bed hog and I excused the fact that he farted in the bed. Lol I would just shake my head as he laughed. We trusted each other and through all our triumphs in the 20 years we were together we knew we were going to be together until death do us part. He was my husband in every way except the paper from the courthouse. As many of our family and friends know I am very sick and that man loved me so much that he has sat by my side at the hospital. He never let me miss a Dr appointment and he took care of all my medications. That's just the small of the many ways he took care of me. We had long talks about death as I thought for sure I would leave the earth before he. We have shared our most intimate thoughts with each other as we snuggled and just talked for hours. I am so proud of his daughter Anna. She did everything he would have wanted her to do in his honor upon his passing. Anna, his 5 other children (my children whom he raised the last 20 years) Frankie, Jessica, Jenn, Steph and Tommy, our Tenn baby Alex, and our Tenn grandbaby Atticus whom is my exes bio daughter (don't ask just know we love as our own), his 4 grandchildren Tina, CJ, JoJo whom now wishes to be called Joe, our newest lil one Damon, and last but not least his wonderful mother Nancy, are going to miss his physical presence in our lives. He was a loved man and his family was his everything. I will await my calling and do my very best to live as he would have wanted me too. RIP my love until I am once again by your side.

“ Joe, I'm so sorry you're gone. I'm right next door for Nancy and Anna if they need me. I remember when I bought this house and had just moved in, I was coming in the door and saw you standing next door. I said "Joe?" We both laughed. I worked for your attorney back then, in 1994. That was a long time ago, Joe, and I will miss seeing your face every now and then next door. I'm glad I got to see you a few weeks ago when you were doing some side work at O'Dolly's. I just found out that you're gone, and I found out by your Mom's grass cutter, who I hired also. He told me! I'm so sorry for your family, Anna, Nancy, Christi and all the kids. If I can do anything to help them, give me a sign (or they can always reach out and ask.) Rest in Peace, my friend. This is a sad, sad day.

“ You will be truly missed by a lot of people. You were kind, generous, and you loved your family more than anything. Chrissy had a good man in you. You stepped up and helped with her kids and the grandbabies. It takes a special person to do the things you have done for her and the Stone family for that matter. You were there for me when I lost my husband and you accepted the person I'm seeing now. Which, by the way, he thinks you're a great guy. What you and Chrissy had was beyond special. Her heart is shattered now, but just know she has a support team here to help. I will cherish the times we had together, wish there was more. But you rest now and tell my husband I love him and miss him. We will keep your memory alive for all your grandkids and still look out for the love of your life.
R.i.p. Joe, love you

“ I am so sorry for your loss. Joe was a great person I have known him for many years. And he was just an all-around good guy. He will be missed by many, I am sure. And I want to send some hugs and love to Anna & Nancy. God bless y'all.
