Hi Daddy! I know I've written several time but I'm only seeing two on here. I guess maybe it's another site. Anyways, I'm thinking of you. Today marks the 36th year of mom's passing. I wonder if y'all found each other again. You had inc told me that you he thought that at some point the to if you would have been together again. It's a nice thought. Maybe when it's my time I will finally have my family. I love and miss you.
