“ Words could never express how I feel, losing such a close friend has been difficult, not being able to talk to her is the hardest part. I take comfort in knowing she's resting & ready to meet our Lord & Saviour in a beautiful city where there's no more pain. I miss you, but someday we'll meet again.

“ She will be truly missed because she was special.
For years I went to her about 4 times a year for haircuts; Friendly, caring, loving is how she made me feel (and I was about ready to call for a haircut).
