“ Although you are with God and the Angels in Heaven, my heart breaks. I remember Gudgel Road when times were tough, but we had lots of love and laughter. I remember waiting for the milk to be delivered, ice cream and our favorite shows like Another World, The Price is Right, Hee Haw, Carol Burnett show, the late night news, and Johnny Carson. We never went without cookies and candy at Memaw's house and never left feeling hungry or unloved. I remember Grandpa building the new home and how excited we all were. I thought we were rich when everyone was moving to Dead Horse Hollow (hahaha). All those sleepy mornings and evenings riding back and forth to the country to see you brought me so much joy. All those weekends spent with David and you and Grandpa were some of the most fun times I've ever had and will cherish them always. I still laugh when I think about some of the shopping trips with mom and the funny stories you would tell. A lot of the times it was how you said it was the funniest! I will always cherish that you always were there when I needed a peaceful place to go as I grew older and as an adult. I will always hold dear to my heart the last time I visited you, and we sang some of those old timey songs you loved so much and remembered every word. Seeing you brought me so much joy and will seeing you again one day will. I love you Memaw!
