“ As I sit here reflecting on the life of cousin Anna Pearl the word that keeps coming to mind is "radiant." Her spirit was like a beacon, illuminating every room she entered with warmth, kindness, and a genuine love for life that was simply contagious.

I will forever remember her unwavering support which always made me feel seen and cherished especially at the reunions. Her wisdom, often shared through simple, heartfelt words, guided me through many challenges I had and helped me become the person I am now.

Though her physical presence is gone, her legacy lives on in the countless lives she has touched. The way she always put others first, her dedication to those around her and the unwavering strength she displayed even in the face of adversity are all lessons I will carry with me always.

I am so grateful to have known her, and I will continue to honor her memory by embodying the same compassion and grace she so effortlessly shared with the world through Jesus Christ !
