“ Mrs. Sizemore always treated me like I was an important person. She was the model of hospitality and kindness. When I was younger and Marcus Jr. and I were running around, I would visit the Sizemore house. Mrs. Sizemore always seemed interested in hearing what I had to say; she would always offer me something to drink and she made me feel as welcome as if I were one of her own children. She always seemed busy around the house but she never failed to stop what she was doing to give me a kind word and a warm welcome. I haven't seen any of the Sizemore family for a long time, but I will never forget what they meant to me during my college years and for some years after that. Mark, Tobey, and Deborah, I am truly sorry for your loss. Your mom was a wonderful, godly person.
