“ Dad,

I can't begin to tell you how much I will miss you. I have been trying my best to hold it together but it just so hard. I want to thank you for raising me with discipline and teaching me to always treat others with respect. You always had a smile on your face and made me proud to be your son. I looked up to you more than you will ever know. Your hard work through the years allowed us to have everything we ever wanted growing up and I am trying my best to replicate those traits with my family today. Numerous times the past few days I have picked my phone up to text you only to realize I can't. Thank you for being such a great person and being the best father anyone could ever ask for. You showed me for many year's what it meant to be a man.

I will always love you and try to instill your legacy in your grandchildren. I leave you with a quote that has always reminded me of you....

“For when the One Great Scorer comes to mark against your name, He writes not that you won or lost, but how you played the game” – Grantland Rice.

*Love always
Your son-Shawn*

“ My parents and I (Barry & Betty) spent the night at Joyce and Dannels's. It was 1982. I wanted to stay up and watch a guy perform on Saturday night live. He stayed up with me and made sure I could watch it. The guy starts to perform and Uncle Danny says "is he wearing makeup" I said yes, it's Adam Ant. His eyes roll, head tilts back and he starts laughing. He couldn't believe it. I have always remembered that, he made sure I could watch it while everyone was asleep. Took the time for me. He was always smiling and laughing when we were all together, and that's how I will always remember him. Best Uncle.

“ Well what to say about Danny. It can't all be said here. Tim and I have had the BEST times of our lifes with Danny and Joyce waiting for the WILDCATS to get to the SUGAR BOWL!! We cheered laughed cried and told more lies than I can remember! We've never made that damn SUGAR BOWL but with Danny in heaven I think we might make it. We for sure getting closer! I will miss our good times with the DOCTOR. RIP Buddy

“ I went to Rupp arena with Danny. Our tickets were pretty high up. It was the playoffs which made it very crowded. Danny told me to follow his lead... Next thing I knew, we were 5 rows off the floor. Great time, great friend. Will be missed.

“ I’ve known Danny since I was 7. I attended school and played sports with Shawn from grade school through high school. The man never missed a game, much less a practice. I’ll always remember Danny standing at our high school football practices in the same spot EVERY DAY. He knew our team better than our coaches. When he gave you a compliment on a play he meant it. He always had a good tan and the man was particular about his front yard. Rest easy Danny. Hope to see you on the other side.

Best wishes,
Eddie Raidt

“ In the early eighties, three of us with Danny leading the way, walked right onto the football field at Commonwealth Stadium when Kentucky was playing West Virginia (I think) and mingled with the players on the sidelines and used their Gatorade cups to drink bourbon from. Was never hassled and didn't cause any problems and had the time of a lifetime. This is what Danny Bridwell was about. Willing to take a little risk to raise the level of fun. A lifelong best friend who happened to be my brother. Rest in Peace big guy. We'll take it from here. Barry
