“ People are often remembered for many things in their lives. I remember Darlaine for the kind and loving things she seemed to always do. The home warming violet, the comfort and care she provided during an illness, the support she gave to our family after Mom died. Words are inadequate to describe her and the impact her life had on others, but I know I am not alone with stories like these. Darlaine was a good person and we all have been blessed by her life.

I love you all and will keep you in my prayers as the days pass on.
