“ I'll miss hearing the sound of your motorcycle outside and hollering, "Dave's Here!" without having to even look out the window. I'll miss you stopping in at the house for no reason other to see how everyone is doing. I'll miss you asking about how things are going working with Dad, asking me to mic your drums (which I regret putting off till tomorrow which now tomorrow will never come) I'll miss you encouraging my involvement in music and the music scene. I'll miss collecting drum parts left by artist onstage at shows for you and saving up months worth of Rifle Magazines for you. You always made a stop by the garage before leaving the house to also ask how I've been doing. You didn't leave me out. Thanx Dave for being part of our family. Love you!
