“ I have been in a state of shock for a few days. It has taken that long to process David's passing. He and I go way back! We played baseball together in the street, went fishing, swam, and he shared his toys with me. He moved out of our neighborhood and I ran into him years later while he was dating my fellow employee Hope. We did a lot of things like going to sports events hung out after work. I must mention the one and only horseback ride on a tour with him. Unfortunately my work took me out town for 5 years and I didn't see him again for 9 years. In 2007 we became delivery drivers for pizza hut at the same time. It was tough time in my life for I was sick psychologically. He never turned his back on me when I lost touch with reality. David was one of few who endured my illness with me. Unfortunately after working together for 3 years, I had to get another job that I could handle. After that I only saw him a couple of times at Walmart. I thought about he and his family often and prayed for them. David will be missed but not forgotten.

“ I used to work with dave, one night my drawer came up almost $150 dollars short. I started having a panic attack about it being so short and I thought I was going to get fired. Dave did his best to calm me down a reassure me everything was okay and he did it so well. That night he stayed late just to look for it and made sure to text me and tell me it came all together so I wasn't worried about it that night. I will forever be thankful for having those experience with dave and I hope he is resting with his most favorite people❤️
