“ I had a lot of memories with grandma we would always drive to Louisville to see her and go to the family reunions. She always had a beautiful smile on her face when she saw us and we all would laugh together at things papal said. When we would be at home and we called him or he called us she would be in the background talking; her and papal would always give us advice. When we're at the family reunions she would always be happy around everybody. The beautiful kind woman who I knew is a loving mother, grandmother, great grandmother, and great great grandmother. The greatest woman I knew will be terribly missed.
