“ Dear Fowler Family,

It was my privilege to serve as Christine's pastor for over 5 years, ending in September 2014, when we transitioned into new avenues of ministry out of the area. When we first met her, she was so active in church, teaching an adult Sunday School class (until the age of 95!) and attending 3 church services a week. She was a blessing in so many ways - her sweet smile, caring spirit, prayers and faith. We had many good times of fellowship on church trips and outings, as well as many discussions in the car traveling back and forth to church. Our children always enjoyed visiting her, as she took time to talk to them on their level (even squatting down so she could look them in the eyes when she talked to them). We enjoyed visiting her at Parkway Rehab, and the several church services we had there for her benefit. She was always so glad to see everyone again! She always appreciated any visits while she was at Parkway, but her eyes always lit up with delight when I would bring one (or more) of our 5 children with me. We had special celebrations every year for her birthdays 90 and above, and we have many fun pictures of her blowing out the candles on her cakes and even wearing party hats and blowing on noisemakers. I am sorry that we are unable to attend the calling hours and memorial service in her honor, our ministry requires us to be elsewhere at those times, but I just wanted to let you know how blessed and enriched our lives were because we walked the road of life with Christine for awhile! This past Monday morning, as we prayed around the breakfast table, our 9 year old son specifically prayed for Christine by name and asked God to heal and help her. God certainly has healed her eternally and I can only imagine the joy and delight that she is experiencing in the presence of her Lord and Savior that she served for so long. Thank you for sharing her with our church (Wellman Wesleyan) for so many years - she was such a great lady and will be missed. I pray God comforts you in your time of loss.
