“ To the Clark Family

I would like to take this time to express my condolences to the entire family. Our thoughts and prayers are with you. Yes we understand that this is a difficult times for the family. There is not one person that has not lost someone in death. I know that Helen enjoyed life. She enjoyed being around people. How sad it is when that daily contact with family members and friends comes to a end. Anbd yet Helen had an understanding of the bible. I am sure that she came across this text many times. The scripture really provides good news for people all over the world. It is really a personal promise from God. God tells us that soon He would rescue and restore life back to those who have died.(John 5:28-29) Now can you envision Helen living again? Well t his is what God is promising us. There are eight accounts in the bible that speaks about this wonderful arrangement from God. Here is one such example. It is recorded at Luke 7:11-17. Why not take the time to read the account. When doing so, why not think about how the verses would apply to Helen, and then to all the family members and friends. Yes let God provide you with true comfort. Remember that He has given us His personal promise. God does not lie.(Titus 1:2)
