“ Hope Marie, You were here for a short time, but you will be in our hearts a life time. You’ve gained your wings as a guardian angel spreading your magical presence to your mommy and family, protecting them with every breath they breathe and with their every heart beat they will feel your whispers of encouragement and never ending love. You are so tiny and yet so powerful. Continue to wrap your magical wings around your mommy and protect her. Love you baby girl, your family
