“ My dear darling Cindy, My heart is very heavy for you and your children today. I am so very sorry about your sweet husband. He was sweet just as you are. I know this is so heartbreaking and I wish I had something I could say to you. I am praying that the Lord give you peace and much strength to go through this terrible time in your life. You know my heart loves you and respects you so much. You know where I am my dear friend if there is anything at all I may be able to help you with. I will be here for you 24/7. just let me know my dear. Love you.
