“ Our brother Phillip (Jim) is missed every day. He was a great brother and friend to the lucky ones who knew him. He loved the outdoors. His best times were with family and his few years in Wyoming and the Dakotas. He had many happy memories of the trials of living and working the ranch. He wanted to go back. The love of his job and the lack of time he had left on this earth went by too quickly. He never forgot anyone's birthday. When he was recovering from surgery, his post-cancer diagnosis; he would hike trails and bike for 5 - 10 miles a day. He pushed his body to stay focused on recovery. This is an inspiration to anyone who knew him. he was an Army Vietnam veteran. e tried to He was kept in the States because of his great welding ability. He had gone into the army on the "Buddy Plan". His friend and buddy went to action in Vietnam and the army kept him stateside, regardless of many attempts to be shipped out. Phillip was not happy. This was 1969, He was still mad in 2012. Ha! Ha! His friend for life, Eugene Myers was the "Buddy"; he was one of the last to visit with Phillip before his death. Throughout his life religion was the mainstay when troubles came. He kept the faith through the hard times and easy days. He appreciated life and loved his family. His daughter Angela was his shining star, the love of his life. He was proud of her. So today, I remember how good he was and I know he is watching us. The Denton Family P.S. Thank you Owen Funeral family and staff for your kindness in a time of grief and uncertainty. Bless You
