“ Dear Mrs. Johnston & Children,

I was stunned and so sorry to hear of the death of James this afternoon. My wife, Suzanne, and I both worked for James in the early nineties when he managed the Dixie Hwy. store. I learned a lot from working with him. Not only did James teach us how to flip burgers, he taught us several life lessons! One that stands out the most was to always treat EVERYONE with respect. Out of all the people I've worked with over the years, James is still one that I hold in the highest regards. Although we haven't seen him in years, Suzanne and I still talk about the ol' Wendy's days and our good ol' boss James. I'm sure you receive messages like this all the time since James touched so many peoples lives. But, I wanted to share with you my personal memories from the short time I worked with him. We're so sorry for your loss.

Our condolences
