“ I was honored to be a part of Jim's life for several weeks preceeding his passing.

He shared many of his memories of his long and interesting life with me. We talked about many things close to his heart, including his love for his wife, Sherry and Billy and their sons, and his gratitude for a full experience on this earth. It was a pleasure to meet many of his church friends and neighbors. He was loved and respected by so many. I'll forever be grateful for sharing those precious days with him. He opened the door every morning with a big smile and a "come on in", and never let a day pass without telling me how much he appreciated our time together. I miss him terribly but am reassured by his account that he was ready to go and be with his beloved wife. Please know, he loved each and every one of you so much. Jim, I'll keep working on my vocabulary like we did to pass the time! See you again my friend.

Best,

Carol
