“ Happy 51st Birthday!!
Another year has gone by that I can't text you and tell you happy birthday. There has been so many things that has changed over the last year. We have a beautiful granddaughter and another 1 on the way. Noelle looks just like Devin, she has the same curly hair that he had when he was a baby. I still look for funny messages from you, or just the ones that you are checking on our family. You are missed more then you know!! Rest easy my friend!!
I will always love you!

“ I can't believe you're gone ! Never got to finish my tattoo you started but at least I have some of your work on me and I'll never forget the fun times we had and the deep talks we shared,. You were a great guy and always made me smile ! My heart goes out to your family and esp your children . I know your baby girl adored you and my heart breaks for her! I know you're in a better place free from this corrupt world and reunited with your Mother ! May all those that loved you find comfort in this. And may your memory live on in our hearts until we meet again my friend ❤️❤️

“ Jimbo was my very best friend the love of our friendship meant everything to us both we both went through a lot of the same things. It did not matter the time day or night if one of us needed nothing more than someone to just listen to them or talk them down for hurting themselves we was that for each other i told him things no one else will ever know about me and he told me things he asked me never to let anyone know . i remember we he had just 2 days to get the house packed up and moved i took off from work and spend every min i could abd everyone knows no on is allow to touch his stuff in his room but i was the one he trusted to go in it and pack everything up for him and place his things in my suv till he could cone get it all i am lost with my best friend I've cought myself texting him 2 days like he was still here and it was nit till i didn't get a text back did it hit me he will never text me again. I love you buddy and thank you for doing all you have for me . i will never forget your kindness and live rest in sleep my friends

“ Jimbo recently did a tattoo in my ear and I remember him telling me that my ear was the first time that he had ever done a tattoo in the ear That's took courage for me and I know it took a lot more courage for him but he did a great job Jimbo has always accepted me as a human being He's always been a friend first and as somebody last he will be dearly missed by me and I know by many others.
