“ John was a wonderful man that was taken too soon. He fought courageously and I never once heard him complain. We will miss him terribly and will always be sad at the time we lost with him. I can't think of one single time that John didn't show up when we needed him, even when he was so sick, he still showed up to help. He will be missed. Thank you for my gift, it meant more than I can express in words. Rest easy, John. You deserve it. We love you.

I know speaking to each other through the years our biggest difficulty was living as many miles apart as we did. We sure made up the yapping for it when we got together and the hugs. I sure am glad you're pain free and don't have to fight anymore.
