

Judith Sarah Rossbacher

January 18, 1948 - August 16, 2023

Judith Sarah Rossbacher, 75, recently of Louisville, slipped peacefully into the arms of her Savior Wednesday, August 16, 2023. She was surrounded by her family and pastors reading scriptures, praying, and singing praises to our Lord and Savior.

Judy was born in Radford, VA to the late Lucille (Osborne), and James Tate. She was a former schoolteacher, homemaker, home stylist, and author. She was preceded in death by her parents; sons, Seth and Nathan Rossbacher, and brother-in-law, Danny Nester.

Judy is survived by her husband, Robert Rossbacher; children, Kristen Cox (Jason) of Louisville, KY and Justin Rossbacher of NYC; granddaughter, Faith Cox, and sister, Kathy Nester of Danville, VA.

Judy and Bob would have celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary on the following day. Judy was a kind, loving, and exuberant encourager, not only as a wife and mother but to everyone she met. She will be greatly missed by her family and friends. However, we know she is rejoicing in the presence of Jesus and being reunited with those she loved who have gone before her, particularly her twin sons and her parents.

Judy left a special legacy behind when she co-authored with Nathan the book "Broken Dreams, Beautiful Quilts". Her heart's desire was to help other people deal with their struggles and heartaches of life and point them to hope in Christ.

The memorial service will be on Sunday, September 3 at 6:00 p.m. at Antioch

Church, 7315 Southside Drive, Louisville, KY 40214

Because of Judy's deep love of children and commitment to the sanctity of life, donations can be made to the crisis pregnancy center in your area.

“ Judy was so good to me when I moved where she lived. She supported me at the loss of my husband. She gave me a garden rock which I will cherish as long as I live. I will miss her so much but know she is smiling seeing those she loved again. I will keep her memories with me always. Edna Schaaf

“ I think what I will miss most is Judy's warm smiles and how her eyes had that certain little twinkle when she was happy I will miss her warm hugs as well

“ I was in the Rossbacher's home in Roanoke many times working with Nathan. In fact he and I wrote a book together about my cat Grizzy. I still display it proudly. I always enjoyed my time with Nathan, with Judy in the background. They were both always smiling.
