“ Lisa and I connected years after HS - and in truth I'd forgotten all about knowing her - she was a teacher for some of my kids. We re-became friends!

“ Where to begin? With almost 20 years of friendship and memories to treasure, I'll miss the smile and laugh the most. I hated that her trach and airway issues robbed us all of her laugh. Lisa was an amazing teacher and friend, always kind and generous. She struggled mightily recently but was still texting daily to ask about my granddaughters and to see how my day was going. She tried to be positive when most would have given that up a long time before. My peace comes from knowing that she is not struggling anymore. Walking, talking and breathing but mostly laughing in a better place.
