“ There's a special place in heaven for guys like Logan.
So many are going to miss him. But he will never be forgotten.

Scott Morgan - July 07, 2018 at 07:20 AM

“ wow, this is so sad. I knew him to be a great neighborhood kid and growing up to be a nice young man. He always seemed like he had a smile on his face when I would see him and he was very respectful. I bragged on him to other people in the neighborhood and I'm sorry he left this earth so soon. God Bless his family and friends. I'll miss seeing him.

“ My sweet baby cousin I remember when you were brought into this world just hours before I brought your cousin Nevaeh into this world. Your mom and dad were so proud to be having you. We are so lost and confused now but I know your with people that love you. Please watch over your mom, dad, and your little brothers they need to feel your comfort around them over the next couple months. I love you and wish I would have seen and didn't more time with you.
Tomorrow is never promised. Sleep with the angels now baby!

“ Logan Mitchell Carey I have more than just a few memories with you and so many I could talk and write about, but these memories I don't want; I want you and to make a million more with you, Josh told me last night "LoLo ok momma" outta no where I know he see and feels my pain, man he has his own pain my babies uncle is gone and they never get to see that beautiful face and hear that loving laugh again I just want to hug you and just laugh together one more time, Sunday should not have been our last "love ya" Logan my heart is so broken and I don't know where to begin to fix it, Mom and Dad and the whole family is broken; man all of G-town is you was something special and had an amazing life ahead of you I couldn't wait for it, I was watching you and bre the day you came over and the way you looked at her I told Alex "He is gonna marry that girl, she gonna tie him down" man shit changes in the blink of an eye . You know when I got the call I thought my mom was calling to tell me my grandma left us I was content I mean it was hurting but she lived a good full life, when she told me no baby are you sitting down so many people's names was going though my head, but never once did I feel that LoLow would come out of her mouth never, your name was said and even sitting down I hit my knees my kids thought I was crazy, I couldn't believe it I told her she was stupid and started calling everyone I heard 4 different things before I got to your house and everyone was there I lost it with mom we just cried and denied it you was a baby a sweet heart that kept a smile on everyone's face, how could anyone take you from us knowing the bond you hold together, I love you so much Lo and you always going to hold my heart Rest easy until we meet again and be standing there waiting for Us Please ❤️🙏 we have the best guardian angel now the very best 🥹🙏

“ We used to always argue about who grandma loved more and who lived there. We would run and hug her and say "don't you love me more grandma" and just laugh I remember when I first met Mitch and Ashley I was so nervous and Logan goes just ignore everything they say. When you got surgery in July of 2013 or 14 I remember I didn't even know how old you were and your wall said you was 13 I said wait I thought you was 14 you said I am and Ashley said no your not and you said shhh she don't know what she's talking about she's high and we all just started laughing and me and skilynn laughed so hard we had to walk out because we started crying💔👉
