“Maddy was my boss and friend for the last two and a half years at the Blockbuster Store in Sellersburg, IN. I grew to love Maddy she was a wonderful person, and a great friend. I thought of her more as family, like a mother or grandmother, than I did a boss. She was always there to talk about any problems that I or any other employee may have been having no matter what it was personal or work related she was always willing to do what she could to help any of us out. I could always call her for advice on anything like when I had my baby girl in May of last year Maddy helped me out a lot, anytime I needed motherly advice she'd be the one I would turn to. Maddy was there for me anytime I needed her, my own mother wasn't around, Maddy knew that and kinda took me under her wing so to speak, I knew I could always count on her because she had a heart of gold that was always giving. I deeply regret and wish that I would have met Maddy sooner and had her love and kindness in my life longer but I am so grateful for the time that I did get to spend with her and know her. I loved Maddy like my own mother, she was and will always be family to me. One of my fondest memories of her and our friendship is all the almost daily chats we would have. I enjoyed those conversations, but I never realized at that time how much the memory of our chats would mean to me in the future I will never forget the time that we spent talking on the phone or chatting at the store, sometimes we would get to talking and lose track of time and she would accidentally end up staying an hour or two past the time she was due to leave! She loved to talk about my daughter Peyton, and her great-grandson Chance. We were always calling each other everytime one of them started doing something new to see if the other one was yet, because they were only 2 weeks apart. We would talk about the babies, life, our families, and joke around and laugh on the phone for a hour or longer numerous times a week. I never got to meet any of her children but I would like to tell them how deeply sorry I am for their loss and how wonderful of a person Maddy was. Maddy's favorite thing to talk to me or almost anyone who was willing to listen was her new great-grandson Chance, she was so proud of him and also very proud of his mother, her granddaughter. She even used to joke

with me that when my daughter Peyton and Chance grew up she was gonna introduce them and maybe they would get married. She always said that would be so neat . Even though I didnt know Maddy's family I know just from the way she smiled and got happy when she talked about them that her family meant the world to her and I hope that they all know that she loved nothing more than to just sit around and do nothing with her family, that is what she used to tell was one of her favorite things to do. I consider myself very blessed to have gotten the opportunity to meet Maddy and have her in my life. She will always have a special place in my heart and in my memories. She is greatly loved and will be greatly missed by the entire Blockbuster staff and company. Anyone who had the chance to know Maddy and be a part of her life was very blessed and lucky to have known such an all around kind hearted woman. God Bless all of her family and you will all be in my prayers during this tough time.

Sincerely, a good friend,

Danielle Grant
