“ I went to high school with Marilyn. I saw her last October at our 50 year high school reunion. She looked so good that I was totally shocked when I saw her in the paper. I'm so sorry she's gone. She was such a nice person. I never once heard her say a bad word about anyone. She was always cheerful with a positive outlook. I can't imagine what took her life when she looked so good last October. I just hate that this has happened. Prayers will be said for her.
