“ To Ann, Carol, Peggy, Joan and Paula: I have such fond memories of your mom and growing up as almost the "6th daughter" at your house. There were many days I was there morning, noon, and night. I remember her cinnamon toast (the best!!), and our night time snack was potato chips and kool aid (and yes you all gave me the burnt chips!!). I remember the back room of the house where she let us spread out whatever our current craze was (marathon monopoly, stringing beads, or Barbies). I feel blessed that she was such a good influence on my younger years. Very sorry for your loss, but wow she was a good one!! Love you all, Karen G.
