“ It is so very hard to accept that you are gone. Things happen all the time and I want to text you or call you. I did a closing last week and this guy had four corvettes in his garage. He had a lift so two of the cars were on top of the others. His garage was similar to Adams Run it was odd to see how he got four cars in there but he did. He said he has them in car shows. I so wanted to share that with you. I just do not understand why you were taken so soon. I guess you are with mom and dad now but I miss you. You were the best big brother ever and I love you.
