“ Nana, my sweet beautiful nana. I don't even have the words. You were the best mom & nana a girl could dream of. The kindest sweetest person, with a heart of gold. You're apart of my everything. So many memories I couldn't begin to describe. 34 years of my life & you were there for me every single day. You were my best friend. My everything. My world. I can't even fathom how we got here. This still feels like a nightmare. I miss you so much, I miss everything about you. I miss our early morning 6:45am calls making sure I get Brody to school, I miss your voice, I miss our afternoon hangouts while the boys are in school. I miss you telling me how to drive, you'd say I drove too fast, but I promise you drove faster. I never in a million lifetimes would have thought Papa Joe & I would be making your arrangements so soon. I beg God to bring you back to us infinite times. Honestly, I thought you'd be here another 20 years. Never pictured a day without your voice hug or kiss. Never imagined my life without you. I couldn't and can't prepare myself to face life without you. You're my sweetest hello and my hardest goodbye. Brody, Remington & Everleigh will never forget all the memories we made together, all the love and support you poured into us. You were our favorite person. We are shattered, and devastated by the loss of you. Reality hasn't set in yet. I'm not sure it ever will. We literally don't know life without you. The millions of little memories we have to hang onto. I pray you're at peace and that Shona, Daddy, your brothers & your friends were there to meet you at the pearly gates. I know you're our biggest guardian angel & I have to tell myself you're always with us. Until we meet again, I pray every night to see you in my dreams. We love you more 💜
