“ It's absolutely impossible to write just one memory. Every moment with Grandma is something I cherish so dearly. She was my favorite person. Grandma had the brightest soul and no one LOVED as much as she did. She welcomed everyone into her life and immediately treated them like family. Her laugh was contagious, and when she spoke you listened, because she was either going to tell you how much she loved you or come up with the funniest remarks. Her favorite flower was carnations because " they come in all the colors of the rainbow just like people do" In her 81 years she had been through many trials and triumphs but she never let anything destroy her character-
" be kind to everyone Amber, even if they can't be kind back"...that was Grandma. She was able to love unconditionally an ever growing , blended and blessed family who are all going to miss that sunshine and warm smile she brought to everyone she touched.
