“ Credit my mother, Catherine Shader, because she planted an early image in my mind's eye, when years ago she shared her memory of a very young Kenny Weber riding his bike up to 621 Camp St to see little Pat Shader. From my own memory, I was fascinated by a beautiful sepia-toned photograph of a very young Pat with flowing blond hair that hung on the wall in the house at 621. She looked angelic! Quite different from these images was the personality that sent me birthday cards that were often hilariously “off color”!
