“ I was so sad to hear of Rick’s passing. It seems like only yesterday that we were all working at the highway office. He was one of those employees that every supervisor loves to have. He enjoyed his job and would take on duties that a lot of people didn’t want to have a part of and would do them very well. He also liked the people he worked with. Always around the holidays you would find from him a bag of candy or something on your desk. Rick will always be a part of us.
