“ There simply are not enough words to describe this beautiful woman. I can't imagine the number of lives she touched through her job and the later in her volunteer work . I feel so blessed to be one of them . Debbie , thanks so much for sharing her with those of us who still claim her as “ my Rosie “. She made sure there was enough of her to love us all in a very special way. She helped me find my footing after losing both of my parents in the last two years and she did it in such a simple way by sharing her faith with me. I'm a better human being because of her . I can only hope to live by her example . Rest in peace beautiful Rosie.
