“ I was very sad to learn my long time friend, classmate and teammate has expired. "Russ" was one of those exceptional people that is liked immediately for his outgoing personality. He always had a smile on his face and met everyone with a pleasant greeting. His reputation as a determined achiever was well earned and widely known throughout the state of Kentucky. I consider myself among the proud group of people that appreciated "Russ". I truly hope his wife, children and grandchildren remember him as a strong personality that they are all proud of now as they have been prior to his passing.
