“ A letter to you in Heaven:

Scuba Steve,

*Hi Scuba Steve..., I miss you.... It's been 4 years today since you passed away; but, it feels like just yesterday we were on the beach and you stole my Goldfish to feed the seagulls.... A lot has changed in these past four years; like, I'm 15 now, but still a hot mess express giggles slightly. I have so many great memories with you. My favorite being from the beach, which I mentioned earlier; as well as, the one from Fourth of July where you had to fix my bitty baby head cause it popped off (you were the first person I went to). You meant the world to me and the whole family. Even though we weren't related you were part of the family. You... you were basically an Uncle to me... I never said that out loud till recently... but I wish I had told you that because I feel like I was like a niece to you.... I still remember that one year for my birthday you got me a toy doctors kit cause I was obsessed with playing doctor. I recently talked to my mom about that gift and she said you asked what I really wanted for my present and when you got told you said tell everyone that it was off the list cause you were getting it for me.... I miss and love you so gosh dang much Scuba Steve... and nothing not even the distance between heaven and earth will change that. Bye-bye until next time Scuba Steve....*

Love,

Your little buddy Katherine

“ Steve had the biggest heart, smile and personality of anyone I have ever known. It is an honor to have known him. He will live on in the hearts of his parents, sisters, nieces, nephews and the many, many people who loved him and were privileged enough to have known him. My heart is shattered. May God comfort you in your mind numbing grief and give you and your family strength as you begin to process the profound loss of your precious son💔

“ Steve was a fun, caring, hard working individual. He always had a smile on his face and went out of his way to help anyone in need. We shared many laughs, and morale was high in his presence. He will be missed greatly.
