“ Dear Mike, I am so sorry for the passing of your father. I truly do not know of anyone else that could have gone passed his drivers license test, again. My favorite memory of your dad was when I was babysitting between our houses for, I beleive, the kids were Janelle and Ricky, been a long time and there was someone I thought trying to break in. I called your house and your mom called the police and minutes later your dad was knocking at the door with his rifle! I was only 15 at the time and he was my knight in shining armour. Now that I am "older" and the experiences that I have had during my life, it is nice to know that at some point in my life, the knight in shining armour (well at least in his boxers and tee shirt) was there for me when I needed him. I am so sad to see his passing. My best to your momma. Love you tons, always. Vicki
