Yes, you were a good brother. I just wish I could have known you longer. I will see you again someday on the other side. It's really rough when some of your loved ones are no longer here. I love you Mark, Momma, and Daddy more than you know.

“ Another Christmas without you Daddy. Thank you and Momma for making all the holidays wonderful. From putting up lights outside, going up and down the stairs with all those decorations, to working so hard for you and Momma to buy us gifts. I will never forget you playing Elvis Christmas songs outside and as we came over for Christmas Eve as we got older, hearing "Blue Christmas" playing as we're walking up the driveway, is one of my best memories ever. I always knew that someday the music would cease so for ALL the Christmases you played the Elvis music for the whole neighborhood, I thank you. I thank you for being the King of Cards and making sure everyone had such a good time playing all your games. 8309 will never be the same. I love and miss you Daddy here at Christmas and ALL the time.

“ *Hi Daddy,
This is the first time in 59 years you have not been here on Father's Day. It goes without saying that you were the best father a girl could ask for. I'm having a very hard time navigating this different life without you. Last year we were at Parlour eating pizza and celebrating with the family. Time sure does change things. I know you're with Momma now and I shouldn't be sad, but we're really missing you today. We miss you every day. Momma too. Happy Heavenly Father's Day and thank you for being the best dad in the world. From working all those long hours and standing on your feet to put food on the table, to raising and loving us kids, and then being a great papaw to your great grandkids, you were simply the best. I love you Momma and Daddy.*

“ Hi Daddy, today we got together for Emily's 23rd birthday and right after we sat down, Elvis started playing, "I Got Lucky". Thank you for sending us that comforting sign. I know you were telling us that you're okay and for us not to worry anymore. I made sure Emily got your birthday gift and she cried and then I cried! Life is surely different now. I'm not used to this and things are still very hard without you. We missed our Patriarch today. I love you Daddy.

“ Hi Daddy, Nevaeh and I visited your good friend Tom this evening. He's very sad you're gone and he says he misses playing cards with you. We all miss you Daddy. Life is hard without you. I love you and Momma so much.

“ Daddy, for the past 3 years you and I have visited the cemetery every Memorial Day but today I couldn't bring myself to go. Please forgive me but I will get there when I'm a little stronger. It still doesn't seem real that you're not here.

When Momma left us, I wrote this poem for her so I've changed it around a little for you:

*"How does the sun shine without you?
How does the flower bloom without you?
How does the bird sing without you?
How do I go on without you?
I have no idea but the word says we should trust God, so Daddy let your light shine in the sun--
Let your love be in every blossom--
Your voice in every bird's song--
And you will live forever in my heart."*

*I love you Daddy
I'm missing you today but I miss you every day.*

“ Hi Daddy, last night me and Kim went to Pinochle Night at St. Peter and your friends (Glenn and Norman) were very pleased to receive your pinochle T-Shirts. I even gave Glenn your homemade dealer chip. Everyone offered their condolences and expressed how much they missed you. So many people came up to us and shared stories and said you were such a kind man. Of course we already knew that and even though we had a very nice time, it was sad you weren't there with us. Anna and Nevaeh showed up too and then we got stuck in the rain. Maybe that was your tears because you wanted to be there, I'm not sure, but I DO know that Jesus has you now and that you will be fine until we see you again. We love and miss you Daddy.

P.S. Thank you for sending that double rainbow in the sky :-)

“ Hi Daddy, tonight we went to Nevaeh's dance recital and you were supposed to go with us. It was very sad without you but she was such a big girl and did an excellent job. You would've been so proud of her. She told me Papaw was watching her from heaven and I believe that. We all miss you terribly down here. I love you Daddy.
