“ I was in Miss Wrights first ever first grade class at Greenwood Elementary. I still remember the little toy mouse she had. She named him Mr. Augustus. And she told us that we would hurt his ears if we talked to much or got loud. Funny the things you remember when you get older.
I loved Miss Wright she made a wonderful teacher I'm sure.

“ A 1964 classmate of mine from Greensburg. She was a very loving sweet person who I would sometimes see at Cloverleaf Baptist church at gospel concerts. Loved seeing her and talking old times.

“ Nell and I were friends from the time when we were 3 or 4 and on through high school. The days we spent atop Blowing Springs Hill and especially at her grandfather’s (Charlie Mitchell) country store are some of the happiest times of my life. We lost touch after high school for the most part, but those occasions when we did meet, it was like no time had passed. Nell is a special person who is loved by many!
