“ I just heard the news of Larry passing away yesterday from someone who used to work at O’Neil manufacturing. I found out this gentleman had worked there and I asked him if he knew of a few people still possibly working there. I asked if he knew Larry and he told me he had passed away about a year ago or so. I was shocked to find this out. I first met Larry in 2000 when he drove the O’Neil steel truck. He would deliver to our steel shop in West Point once or twice per week. He was a super nice guy. He never had anything bad to say about anything. He always had a great attitude towards life in general. He bragged about his son a lot also. He would talk a lot about the valley sports team winning the little league World Series. He was a proud father, that’s for sure! He always had a smile on his face too. He was very much respected by me and so many others! It was a pleasure meeting the man. He will be missed!

“ I went to school and graduated with Larry and Terry. He was such a character in HS. Our paths took us different directions, but there are people you would always consider friends. That’s the way I think about Larry.

I remember Sr. year we were in a pep rally and the juniors were ready to take over....they were LOUD.....well,Larry took a sign the seniors made and went right into the jr section. Needless to say with that move the seniors won the loudest class at the pep rally. Larry let them know the halls of PRP were still ours for a bit longer.

He’d come to school on Monday morning and tell us about Rattler his coon dog, and how good he was doing.....good times.

Then I was watching the news one night, it was the Little League World Series, and there was Larry proud as could be.....prayers for Terry and all of Larry’s family.

“ My name is Nya Greene I'm a material Manager @ O'Neal MFG Pitt. I had the pleasure of doing two training sessions with Larry last year. All I can say is he was an aswome guy, in our free time we would laugh and joke and tell stories to each other. My heart goes out to his family he spoke highly of you. I know he left a hole in your hearts that can never be filled.

“ Larry Walden was one of a kind. He was kind and funny and devoted, and I can go on and on, but he was a rare person that is bigger than life. I’m so thankful that I was able to be his friend. And I’m so sorry for his loss. My heart goes out to each one of his family members and his friends because I know they love him and will miss him terribly..
